Ah, the Orient... the striking cultural differences and the fascinating variety of sights and sounds make the Orient one of the world's intriguing regions...

Bangkok- The capital of the legendary Kingdom of Siam. Thailand is an exotic travel experience. There are temples adorned with golden spires, graceful silk-clad dancers, and a capital city sliced by canals. Singapore- This is undoubtedly one of the cleanest, modern, and most orderly cities you are ever likely to visit. This beautiful island state has not lost touch with its rich and culturally diverse past. It has been blessed with a special blend of Asian people, cultures, traditions, arts and cuisine.*

Bali- Surrounded by a golden rim of beaches and an irregular landscape of green terraced rice fields and deep ravines, it is home to diverse, exotic culture, and gracious people. Hong Kong- A rich blend of East & West, of modern and traditional, of Capitalism and Confucianism. A thriving metropolis packed into a tiny space, its flashy facade of high-rises and neon collide with a Chinese world of colourful street markets, wizened calligraphers, timeworn temples and romantic junks.*
